

Composition Notebook Story Draft Checklist Card Pack

Sixteen composition-notebook cards help writers check one fictional draft for a clear character, usable setting details, event order, useful details, clear sentences, and one next-draft pencil note.

Audience: Families, homeschool groups, tutors, and adult-led writing tables for writers ages 7-11.

Format: 16 printable composition notebook draft checklist cards plus adult guide tools, draft checklist routines, take-home draft checklist slips, and optional prompts

Family-safe printable writing pages for adult-led, offline story practice.

$75

Included

- 16 printable composition notebook draft checklist cards
- Adult setup guide
- Fictional draft checklist safety notes
- Composition notebook coaching moves
- Family handoff notes
- Pack reset notes
- Six adult-led draft checklist routines
- Ten take-home draft checklist slips
- Eight optional prompts
- Printable PDF and ZIP artifact

Story draft-checklist coaching

Composition Notebook Story Draft Checklist Adult Guide

- Print the composition notebook draft checklist cards, take-home slips, and adult guide pages before the paper-only session.
- Use one invented story draft at a time, then guide the writer through character, setting, sequence, useful detail, and clear-sentence checks.
- Keep every example broad, fictional, family-friendly, offline, and led by an adult with pencil and paper.
- Ask the writer to mark the composition notebook page lightly so the draft still feels workable.
- Keep all notes inside the pretend story world with invented names, simple places, and safe everyday objects.
- Finish by writing one next-draft pencil note so the writer knows the single change to try on the next pass.

Use one composition notebook story draft-checklist card at a time. Keep every choice broad, invented, paper-only, and screen-free.

Sixteen draft-checklist-card worlds

Pick a world image, then check one fictional story draft with a pretend composition notebook draft-checklist card.

AGES 7-9

Buttonwood Library Train

AGES 7-9

Button Bakery Map Mix-Up

AGES 7-8

Teacup Town Weather Window

AGES 7-9

Spoon Ferry Lunchbox Harbor

AGES 7-9

Pocket Park Notice Board

AGES 8-10

Rain Gauge Railway

AGES 8-10

Greenhouse Gear Garden

AGES 8-10

Cloudberry Clocktower

AGES 8-10

Moss Message Observatory

AGES 8-10

Orchard Pulley Post

AGES 8-10

Pond Bridge Blueprint Club

AGES 10-11

Revision River Ferry

AGES 10-11

Chapter Gate Greenhouse

AGES 10-11

Index Card Theater Club

AGES 10-11

Binding Day Boardwalk

AGES 10-11

Margin Note Market

Choose the composition notebook draft-checklist routine

Character Check Circle Making sure the story draft has a clear pretend character for the reader to follow. 1. The adult asks who the main pretend character is on this composition notebook page: _____. 2. The writer circles the first place that character appears in the draft: _____. 3. The adult asks what the character is trying to do or notice in the story: _____. 4. The writer adds one small pencil check beside the clearest character line: _____.	Setting Check Box Finding whether the draft gives the reader a simple place or time clue. 1. The adult asks where the made-up story moment seems to happen: _____. 2. The writer draws a small box around the setting clue already on the page: _____. 3. The adult asks which safe pretend place detail would help the reader picture the scene: _____. 4. The writer writes one setting check note in the margin: _____.
Sequence Check Path Checking that the story events move in an order a reader can follow. 1. The adult points to the first event in the draft and asks what happens first: _____. 2. The writer numbers the next event that follows on the page: _____. 3. The adult asks which event feels like the last step in the story path: _____. 4. The writer marks one arrow where the sequence needs a clearer move: _____.	Useful Detail Check Choosing details that help the story instead of filling the page with extra pieces. 1. The adult asks which detail helps the reader understand the character, place, or next event: _____. 2. The writer underlines one useful detail already in the draft: _____. 3. The adult asks which detail feels extra or unclear for this story moment: _____. 4. The writer writes one small detail note beside the line to keep or rethink: _____.
Clear Sentence Check Spotting one sentence that should be easier for the reader to understand. 1. The adult asks the writer to choose one sentence to reread slowly from the draft: _____. 2. The writer points to the words that tell the main idea of that sentence: _____. 3. The adult asks whether the sentence says one clear thing or needs a pencil note: _____. 4. The writer places a check beside a clear sentence or a dot beside one to revisit: _____.	Next-Draft Pencil Note Ending the checklist with one focused note for the next draft pass. 1. The adult checks the character, setting, sequence, detail, and clear-sentence marks on the page: _____. 2. The writer chooses the one check that would help the next draft most: _____. 3. The adult asks for a short pencil note that names the next change without judging the draft: _____. 4. The writer writes the next-draft note at the bottom of the composition notebook page: _____.

Try one draft checklist later

ONE-PAGE CHECK CHARACTER CLARITY Character Check Slip Circle where the main pretend character first appears in the draft: _____. Ask what the character is trying to do or notice: _____.	PLACE-CLUE CHECK SETTING CLUE Setting Check Slip Box one word or phrase that shows the pretend place or time: _____. Ask what safe made-up detail would help the reader picture the setting: _____.
BEGINNING CHECK SEQUENCE START First Event Slip Put a small 1 beside the first event in the story draft: _____. Ask why that event should be first for the reader: _____.	MIDDLE CHECK SEQUENCE FOLLOW-THROUGH Next Event Slip Mark the event that should happen after the first one: _____. Ask how the second event follows from the first: _____.
ENDING CHECK SEQUENCE FINISH Last Step Slip Underline the event that feels like the last step in the draft: _____. Ask what lets the reader know the story moment is finished: _____.	DETAIL CHECK USEFUL DETAIL Useful Detail Slip Underline one detail that helps the reader understand the story: _____. Ask whether the detail helps with character, setting, or sequence: _____.
LIGHT MARGIN CHECK DETAIL CHOICE Extra Detail Slip Put a small dot beside one detail that may not be needed yet: _____. Ask which detail can wait for another made-up story page: _____.	SENTENCE CHECK SENTENCE CLARITY Clear Sentence Slip Place a check beside one sentence that is easy to understand: _____. Ask what makes that sentence clear for the reader: _____.
PENCIL-DOT CHECK SENTENCE REVISIT Sentence Revisit Slip Put a dot beside one sentence to make clearer on the next pass: _____. Ask what the sentence should help the reader know: _____.	FINAL NOTE CHECK NEXT-DRAFT FOCUS Next-Draft Note Slip Write one next-draft pencil note at the bottom of the page: _____. Ask which single change should come first on the next draft: _____.

Optional share prompts

- Optional adult-led offline prompt: the main pretend character in this draft is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: the setting clue I can find on the page is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: the first event in the story draft is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: the event that should come next is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: one useful detail for the reader is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: one sentence that is clear already is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: one sentence to revisit with pencil is _____.
- Optional adult-led offline prompt: the next-draft note I will write is _____.

Buttonwood Library Train Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a composition notebook page beside the card and choose one pretend Buttonwood Library Train draft to check: _____.

Writer: read the draft once, then use pencil marks to show what the library-train story already has and what needs a note: _____.

Buttonwood Library Train

Character check
Character check: write the made-up helper's name and the one library-train job the helper is trying to finish: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented train details, such as a button shelf, question card, or ticket tag, that the draft uses: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: write the first train clue, the next shelf choice, and the final finished moment in order: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one detail that helps the errand make sense and mark one extra detail that can wait for another story: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: choose one sentence and make sure the reader can tell who is doing the action: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next draft about the character, setting, sequence, detail, or sentence to improve: _____.

Quiet option: adult points to one checklist row, and the writer fills only that row before taking a short paper pause: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend library-train draft for a helper, place details, ordered moments, useful details, clear sentences, and one pencil note: _____.

Button Bakery Map Mixup Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set out one composition notebook page and choose a broad pretend map-table story draft with no real place details: _____.

Writer: use the checklist to check whether the map mixup draft is easy to follow from first clue to final fix: _____.

Button Bakery Map Mix-Up

Character check

Character check: name the pretend map helper and write what the helper wants to sort out on the map table: _____.

Sequence check

Sequence check: write the map clue that starts the mixup, the action that follows, and the final calm map choice: _____.

Sentence check

Sentence check: pick one map sentence and make the subject and action clear enough to read without guessing: _____.

Setting check

Setting check: write two invented setting details, such as a paper button marker, crumb-shaped dot, or ribbon path: _____.

Detail check

Detail check: circle one map detail that helps the reader understand the mixup and mark one detail that does not help yet: _____.

Final draft checklist

Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next draft about the helper, map place, order, detail, or sentence clarity: _____.

Quiet option: adult reads one checklist prompt aloud, and the writer answers it with a few quiet pencil words: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend map mixup draft for character, setting, sequence, helpful details, clear sentences, and one next-draft note: _____.

Teacup Town Weather Window Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place the card beside a composition notebook page and choose one pretend weather-window story draft to check: _____.

Writer: look through the draft for the watcher, the window place, the order of events, and one sentence that needs to be clearer: _____.

Teacup Town Weather Window

Character check
Character check: write the made-up watcher's name and what the watcher is checking at the weather window: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: write what the watcher sees first, what changes next, and how the window moment ends: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: choose one short sentence and make sure it tells who looks, points, sorts, or notices: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: list two pretend window details, such as a cup sill, cloud tag, paper band, or tiny forecast card: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one weather-window detail that helps the scene and mark one extra detail that can stay out for now: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next draft about the watcher, window place, order, detail, or clear sentence: _____.

Quiet option: check only the character and setting rows first, then leave the rest for another paper pass: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend weather-window draft for a clear character, place, order, useful details, clear sentences, and one pencil note: _____.

Spoon Ferry Lunchbox Harbor Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set one composition notebook page beside the card and choose a pretend harbor draft about paper ferries and labels: _____.

Writer: check the harbor draft for one ferry helper, a pretend place, three ordered moments, and sentences the reader can follow: _____.

Spoon Ferry Lunchbox Harbor

Character check
Character check: name the made-up ferry helper and write the small harbor task the helper is trying to finish: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented harbor details, such as a spoon ferry, lunchbox pier, folded flag, or paper wave line: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: write the first ferry signal, the next harbor move, and the final safe docking moment in order: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one harbor detail that helps the story move and mark one extra detail that does not change the draft yet: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: choose one ferry sentence and make sure the reader can tell what moves and where it goes: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next draft about the helper, harbor setting, event order, useful detail, or clear sentence: _____.

Quiet option: adult folds the paper in half, and the writer checks only the left-side rows first: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend harbor draft for character, setting, sequence, useful details, clear sentences, and one next-draft pencil note: _____.

Pocket Park Notice Board Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a composition notebook page beside the card and choose one pretend notice-board draft with no real place details: _____.

Writer: use pencil checks to see whether the notice-board draft has a character, place, order, useful details, and clear sentences: _____.

Pocket Park Notice Board

Character check
Character check: write the made-up board keeper's name and the notice-board task the keeper is trying to complete: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: write which notice appears first, what the keeper does next, and how the board looks at the end: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: choose one notice-board sentence and make sure it has a clear who, what, and where: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented pocket park details, such as a leaf notice, bench label, pin rail, or paper path: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one notice detail that belongs in this draft and mark one extra park detail that can wait: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next draft about the keeper, board setting, order, useful detail, or clear sentence: _____.

Quiet option: adult asks only the final checklist question, and the writer writes one calm pencil note: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend notice-board draft for character, setting, sequence, useful details, clear sentences, and one next-draft note: _____.

Rain Gauge Railway Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set out a composition notebook page and choose one pretend railway draft with made-up station and rain-gauge details: _____.

Writer: check the draft like a paper conductor, looking for who acts, where it happens, what comes next, and which sentence needs a pencil note: _____.

Rain Gauge Railway

Character check
Character check: name the made-up conductor or station helper and write the story job that character is trying to finish: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: write the first station signal, the next railway choice, and the final arrival or solved gauge moment: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: choose one railway sentence and make the subject, action, and place clear on the page: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented railway details, such as a rain-gauge platform, cloud ticket, signal card, or puddle rail: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one railway detail that helps the draft and mark one extra detail that can move to a different story: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next draft about the character, station setting, sequence, useful detail, or sentence clarity: _____.

Quiet option: check the sequence row with three short phrases, then stop before copying anything new: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend railway draft for character, setting, sequence, useful details, clear sentences, and one next-draft pencil note: _____.

Greenhouse Gear Garden Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set out this card, a pencil, and one broad made-up greenhouse gear garden draft before the writer checks it: _____.

Writer: check the pretend draft for a clear character, setting, sequence, useful details, clear sentences, and one next-draft pencil note: _____.

Greenhouse Gear Garden

Character check

Character check: name the invented helper and the clear garden gear job that starts the draft: _____.

Sequence check

Sequence check: write the first, next, and last draft moments so the gear garden action follows in order: _____.

Sentence check

Sentence check: choose one sentence and make sure the reader can tell who is turning, fixing, or carrying something: _____.

Setting check

Setting check: list two made-up greenhouse details, such as a gear shelf or crank table, that help the reader picture the place: _____.

Detail check

Detail check: circle one useful greenhouse gear detail and cross out one extra detail that does not belong in this draft: _____.

Final draft checklist

Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next fictional draft after checking character, setting, sequence, details, and sentences: _____.

Quiet option: adult points to one extra detail, and the writer decides whether to cross it out or keep it: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend garden draft for one useful detail and one detail to leave out: _____.

Cloudberry Clocktower Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a blank composition page beside the card and choose one invented clocktower draft for a calm paper check: _____.

Writer: read the pretend draft, then check character, setting, sequence, details, sentences, and one next-draft pencil note: _____.

Cloudberry Clocktower

Character check
Character check: name the made-up clock keeper and add one clear feeling word about the clocktower choice without explaining too much: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: mark the first clock clue, the next shelf choice, and the final paper decision in order: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: find one sentence where the feeling word fits the action and keeps the sentence clear: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: write two clocktower details that help the draft feel specific but still invented: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one useful cloudberry card or clock detail that helps the draft, and leave out one extra side detail: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next fictional draft about the feeling word, sequence, or useful detail: _____.

Quiet option: adult reads one sentence aloud, and the writer adds only one simple feeling word on paper: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend clocktower draft for one feeling word that helps the reader understand the character: _____.

Moss Message Observatory Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: choose one broad invented moss message observatory draft and keep the check focused on paper marks only: _____.

Writer: check whether each sentence helps the pretend story move from character to setting to sequence to the next-draft note: _____.

Moss Message Observatory

Character check
Character check: underline the invented watcher and the clear message job that gives the draft a reason to move: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: list two made-up observatory details, such as a moss chart or pebble lens, that help the story action: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: number the message arrival, the observatory check, and the final choice so the order is easy to follow: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one detail that moves the moss message story forward and mark one detail that slows the draft down: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: read each sentence and put a small check beside the ones that help the story move: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next fictional draft about a sentence to keep, shorten, or move: _____.

Quiet option: adult chooses two sentences, and the writer marks which one moves the story better: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend observatory draft by asking whether every sentence helps the next story moment: _____.

Orchard Pulley Post Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set the card beside one invented orchard pulley post draft and ask the writer to check one sentence at a time: _____.

Writer: check character, setting, sequence, useful details, and clear sentences, then add one next-draft pencil note: _____.

Orchard Pulley Post

Character check
Character check: name the pretend pulley helper and make sure the reader knows who is raising or lowering the basket: _____.

Sequence check
Sequence check: mark the first pulley choice, the next basket movement, and the final post note in order: _____.

Sentence check
Sentence check: find one sentence that starts with an unclear subject and rewrite it so the reader knows who or what acts: _____.

Setting check
Setting check: write two invented orchard pulley post details that belong in the draft and help the reader see the place: _____.

Detail check
Detail check: circle one useful rope, basket, or post detail and cross out one detail that does not help this draft: _____.

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next fictional draft about the clearest subject or the sentence to fix first: _____.

Quiet option: adult points to one sentence, and the writer writes only the missing who or what: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend pulley draft for one sentence that needs a clearer subject: _____.

Pond Bridge Blueprint Club Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: choose one broad invented pond bridge blueprint club draft and keep the checklist work on printed paper and pencil: _____.

Writer: check the pretend draft for character, setting, sequence, useful details, clearer sentences, and one next-draft pencil note: _____.

Pond Bridge Blueprint Club

Character check
Character check: name the made-up bridge planner and the clear blueprint job that guides the draft:

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented pond bridge blueprint details, such as a plank sketch or pebble marker, that help the reader picture the place: _____

Sequence check
Sequence check: write the first plan choice, the next bridge check, and the final club note in story order:

Detail check
Detail check: circle one useful blueprint detail and choose one vague word, such as thing or stuff, to replace with a story-specific word: _____

Sentence check
Sentence check: rewrite one sentence so the specific pond, bridge, or blueprint word makes the action clearer: _____

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note for the next fictional draft naming the vague word to replace first: _____

Quiet option: adult writes two possible story-specific words, and the writer circles the one that fits the draft: _____. Take-home line: check another pretend blueprint draft for one vague word that can become a clearer story word: _____.

Revision River Ferry Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place this card beside a composition notebook page and choose one broad made-up ferry draft to check: _____.

Writer: check the ferry draft for character, setting, order, useful details, clear dialogue tags, and one pencil note: _____.

Revision River Ferry

Character check
Character check: name the made-up ferry helper and the clear job that moves the story:

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented ferry setting details, such as a paper pier and folded ticket sign:

Sequence check
Sequence check: write the beginning, middle, and ending ferry moments in order:

Detail check
Detail check: circle one useful ferry detail and cross out one extra detail that does not help:

Sentence check
Sentence check: underline one spoken line and make the tag show which made-up character speaks:

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: write one pencil note about the next ferry draft change: _____

Quiet option: complete only the character, setting, and dialogue-tag checks on paper: _____. Notebook line: use the same checklist with another made-up ferry draft and one clear sentence: _____.

Chapter Gate Greenhouse Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set a composition notebook page beside the card and choose one broad made-up chapter gate draft: _____.

Writer: check whether the chapter gate draft has a clear helper, place, order, details, sentences, and ending note: _____.

Chapter Gate Greenhouse

Character check
Character check: name the made-up gate keeper and one job the keeper must finish in the draft:

Sequence check
Sequence check: list the first chapter clue, the next clue, and the final gate choice in order:

Sentence check
Sentence check: rewrite one unclear chapter sentence so the reader knows who found what:

Setting check
Setting check: write two invented greenhouse details, such as a page shelf and pointer card:

Detail check
Detail check: circle one chapter detail that helps the draft and cross out one side detail:

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: test the final sentence and write one pencil note if it needs a stronger finish:

Quiet option: check only the final sentence and one useful chapter detail: _____. Notebook line: try the checklist again with another made-up chapter gate draft on paper: _____.

Index Card Theater Club Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a composition notebook page beside the card and choose one broad made-up theater club draft: _____.

Writer: check what the theater club draft already has, then leave one pencil note for the next draft: _____.

Index Card Theater Club

Character check

Character check: name the made-up stage helper and the clear job that starts the story:

Sequence check

Sequence check: write what happens first, what changes next, and how the theater club draft ends:

Sentence check

Sentence check: choose one cloudy sentence and rewrite it with a clearer subject and action:

Setting check

Setting check: list two invented theater details, such as a cue card rail and prop shelf:

Detail check

Detail check: circle one theater detail that helps the story and cross out one extra detail:

Final draft checklist

Final draft checklist: write one next-draft pencil note that the writer can use later:

Quiet option: write only the next-draft pencil note after checking the character and setting: _____. Notebook line: carry the same paper checklist to another made-up theater club draft: _____.

Binding Day Boardwalk Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: set this card beside a composition notebook page and choose one broad made-up boardwalk draft: _____.

Writer: compare two checklist choices before choosing the pencil note that best helps the boardwalk draft: _____.

Binding Day Boardwalk

Character check
Character check: name the made-up booklet helper and compare two possible jobs for that helper:

Setting check
Setting check: choose two invented boardwalk details, such as a page clasp rail and paper booth:

Sequence check
Sequence check: compare two possible next moments and write the one that follows the beginning best:

Detail check
Detail check: compare two details, then circle the one that helps the draft more: _____

Sentence check
Sentence check: compare two versions of one sentence and copy the version with the clearer subject:

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: choose one checklist result and write it as the next-draft pencil note:

Quiet option: compare only two details and one sentence before writing the pencil note: _____. Notebook line: use two paper choices to help another made-up boardwalk draft grow clearer: _____.

Margin Note Market Draft Checklist Card

Adult setup: Adult: place the card beside a composition notebook page and choose one broad made-up margin note draft: _____.

Writer: check the margin note draft, then copy one final checklist note before any longer revising: _____.

Margin Note Market

Character check
Character check: name the made-up note seller and the clear job that belongs in this story:

Sequence check
Sequence check: write the first market moment, the next choice, and the final paper-note result:

Sentence check
Sentence check: rewrite one market sentence so it says exactly who does the action:

Setting check
Setting check: list two invented market details, such as a margin-note stall and blank tag basket:

Detail check
Detail check: circle one margin detail that helps the draft and cross out one extra note:

Final draft checklist
Final draft checklist: copy one final checklist note before the next paper revision begins:

Quiet option: copy only the final checklist note after checking one character job and one setting detail: _____ . Notebook line: save the final checklist note and use it on another made-up margin note draft: _____ .