

Paper Tab Story Inference Card Pack

Sixteen paper tab cards help writers connect invented story clues to what they might suggest, why they fit, and one short inference sentence.

Audience: Families, homeschool groups, tutors, and adult-led writing tables for writers ages 7-11.

Format: 16 printable paper tab story inference cards plus adult guide tools, inference routines, take-home inference slips, and optional adult prompts

Family-safe printable writing pages for adult-led, offline inference practice.

$105

Included

- 16 printable paper tab inference cards
- Adult setup guide
- Fictional inference safety notes
- Clue prompts
- Might suggest prompts
- Why prompts
- Second clue prompts
- Inference sentence prompts
- Paper tab check prompts
- Six adult-led inference routines
- Ten take-home inference slips
- Printable PDF and ZIP artifact

Inference coaching

Paper Tab Story Inference Adult Guide, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- Place one paper tab card, blank paper, pencil, and scrap tab at the adult-led fictional offline paper-only table: _____.
- Name the clue, what it might suggest, why, second clue, inference sentence, and paper tab check blanks before writing: _____.
- Choose one made-up story moment and keep each clue adult-led, fictional, offline, paper-only, and family-friendly: _____.
- Let the writer point, dictate, or write short paper phrases while the adult keeps the inference calm: _____.
- Close by reading the inference sentence and paper tab check from the paper card only: _____.

Facilitation notes

- Ask for one tiny clue first so the adult-led fictional offline paper-only inference has a clear start: _____.
- Use might suggest language before asking for why, so the writer can try an idea without pressure: _____.
- Ask why the clue might suggest the idea, and accept a short family-friendly fictional phrase: _____.
- Add a second clue only after the first clue and why line feel clear on paper: _____.
- Finish with the paper tab check as a quiet adult-led paper-only mark for the inference sentence: _____.

Safety notes

- Keep all names, places, events, clues, and paper tabs made-up for this adult-led fictional offline paper-only activity: _____.
- Skip any line that asks for personal facts, exact places, outside facts, or child details: _____.
- Use the tabs only as pretend paper markers for this family-friendly inference card: _____.
- Keep the inference sentence about the invented story, not about a person outside the card: _____.
- Treat the paper tab check as a calm ending to one adult-led fictional offline paper-only session: _____.

Use one story inference card at a time. Keep every inference sentence broad, invented, paper-only, and guided by an adult.

Sixteen inference card worlds

Pick a world image, then name the clue, what it might suggest, why it fits, the second clue, the inference sentence, and the paper tab check.

AGES 7-8

Puddle Planet Post Office

AGES 7-8

Moon Muffin Market

AGES 7-8

Teacup Town Weather Window

AGES 7-8

Mitten Market Lost Ticket

AGES 7-9

Button Bakery Map Mix-Up

AGES 7-9

Penny Path Compass Shop

AGES 7-9

Spoon Ferry Lunchbox Harbor

AGES 7-9

Buttonwood Library Train

AGES 7-9

Rain Boot Route Rangers

AGES 8-10

Cloudberry Clocktower

AGES 8-10

Rain Gauge Railway

AGES 8-10

Pantry Measurement Mystery

AGES 8-10

Solar Oven Picnic Station

AGES 10-11

Appendix Archive Lab

AGES 10-11

Chapter Gate Greenhouse

AGES 10-11

Binding Day Boardwalk

Choose the story inference routine

USE WHEN THE WRITER NEEDS ONE INVENTED CLUE BEFORE DECIDING WHAT IT MIGHT SUGGEST: _____.

Clue Spot Routine, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- _____.
1. The adult places the blank clue line beside the paper tab card: _____.
 2. The writer names one fictional clue from the made-up story moment: _____.
 3. The adult asks what the clue might suggest inside the pretend story: _____.
 4. The writer fills this paper-only line: This clue might suggest _____.

USE WHEN THE WRITER HAS A CLUE AND A MIGHT SUGGEST IDEA BUT NEEDS A WHY LINE: _____.

Why Line Routine, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- _____.
1. The adult points to the why blank and keeps the card offline and paper-only: _____.
 2. The writer explains why the clue might suggest the story idea: _____.
 3. The adult helps trim the why line to one fictional phrase: _____.
 4. The writer writes this line: My why is _____.

USE WHEN THE CLUE, MIGHT SUGGEST IDEA, WHY, AND SECOND CLUE ARE READY TO COMBINE: _____.

Inference Sentence Routine, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- _____.
1. The adult reads the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue in order: _____.
 2. The writer chooses the words that belong in one inference sentence: _____.
 3. The adult keeps the sentence fictional, offline, paper-only, and family-friendly: _____.
 4. The writer completes this line: My inference sentence is _____.

USE WHEN THE CLUE IS CHOSEN BUT THE IDEA IT MIGHT SUGGEST IS STILL LOOSE: _____.

Might Suggest Bridge Routine, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- _____.
1. The adult reads the clue slowly from the paper card: _____.
 2. The writer says one idea the clue might suggest in the fictional story: _____.
 3. The adult repeats the idea with gentle why language: _____.
 4. The writer completes this adult-led line: The clue might suggest _____ because _____.

USE WHEN ONE CLUE AND WHY LINE ARE READY AND THE INFERENCE NEEDS A SECOND CLUE: _____.

Second Clue Routine, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- _____.
1. The adult rereads the first clue and why line from the paper: _____.
 2. The writer chooses a second clue that fits the same made-up idea: _____.
 3. The adult asks how the second clue might suggest the same inference: _____.
 4. The writer fills this line: My second clue is _____.

USE WHEN THE INFERENCE SENTENCE IS WRITTEN AND NEEDS A FINAL PAPER TAB CHECK: _____.

Paper Tab Check Routine, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

- _____.
1. The adult places the paper tab beside the inference sentence: _____.
 2. The writer points to the clue and second clue that support the sentence: _____.
 3. The adult asks why the paper tab check shows a clear fictional inference: _____.
 4. The writer completes this line: My paper tab check says _____.

Try one inference later

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Tiny Clue Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

Fictional clue: _____; it might suggest _____; why: _____.

Use this slip as an adult-led paper-only way to start one made-up inference: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Why Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly: _____.

My why line is _____.

Keep the why line short, fictional, offline, paper-only, and family-friendly: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Inference Sentence Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

My inference sentence is _____.

Combine the clue, what it might suggest, why, and second clue in one paper sentence: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Two Clue Pair Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

The first clue is _____; the second clue is _____; together they might suggest _____.

Read both fictional clues before asking why they fit together: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Place Guess Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

The made-up place might feel _____ because the clue is _____.

Keep place details broad, invented, offline, paper-only, and family-friendly: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Might Suggest Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

This clue might suggest _____ because _____.

Ask for a pretend idea first, then ask why the clue might suggest it: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Second Clue Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

My second clue is _____, and it might suggest _____.

Choose a second clue that supports the same invented inference sentence: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Paper Tab Check Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

My paper tab check says the clue and second clue fit because _____.

Use the paper tab check as a calm ending mark, not a pressure mark: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Character Guess Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

A made-up character might be thinking _____ because the clue is _____.

Keep the guess inside the invented story and on paper only: _____.

TAKE-HOME INFERENCE SLIP

Later Paper Tab Slip, adult-led fictional offline paper-only family-friendly:

_____.

Next adult-led paper tab check, I can add a new clue: _____.

Save the slip for another fictional offline paper-only inference moment: _____.

Optional adult prompts

- Which clue can start this adult-led fictional offline paper-only inference: _____.
- What might suggest idea fits the clue without using outside facts: _____.
- Why might the clue suggest that family-friendly story idea: _____.
- What second clue supports the same inference sentence: _____.
- Which words make the inference sentence clear and still fictional: _____.
- Where should the paper tab check sit beside the sentence: _____.
- Which blank can stay empty until the writer is ready to dictate or write: _____.
- What adult-led fictional offline paper-only clue can be saved for later: _____.

Puddle Planet Post Office Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set out one blank page, pencil, and two small paper tabs beside the puddle planet card: _____.

Writer: invent a puddle stamp desk, a planet pouch, and a helper who figures out what a small clue might suggest: _____.

Puddle Planet Post Office

Clue clue: write one made-up puddle stamp, desk mark, or pouch detail that the helper notices first: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: write what that first clue might suggest inside the pretend post office story: _____ _____
Why why: write why the clue might suggest that idea instead of a different made-up idea: _____ _____	Second clue second clue: write one different puddle planet detail that points toward the same inference: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that uses the clue, what it might suggest, why, and the second clue: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference sentence stays invented, calm, and clear: _____ _____

Quiet option: fill only the clue and might suggest blanks first, then pause: _____.

Take-home line: keep this paper card and add one new puddle planet clue later with an adult: _____.

Moon Muffin Market Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place one blank page, pencil, and paper tabs near the invented moon market prompt: _____.

Writer: make up a moon market stall, a silver basket, and a helper who studies two pretend clues on paper: _____.

Moon Muffin Market

Clue clue: write one moon stall mark, basket shape, or glowing counter detail the helper notices: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about the helper's next pretend choice: _____ _____
Why why: write why that clue could point to the helper's idea in the made-up story: _____ _____ _____	Second clue second clue: write one different moon market clue that supports the same inference: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that explains the inference with the clue and second clue: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference sentence uses only invented market details: _____ _____

Quiet option: draw a tiny moon tab first, then fill one clue blank with words: _____.

Take-home line: keep this paper card and invent one more moon market clue later with an adult: _____.

Teacup Town Weather Window Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set a blank page, pencil, and paper tabs beside the weather-window story card: _____.

Writer: invent a tiny teacup window, a sky signal, and a helper who thinks about what a clue might suggest: _____.

Teacup Town Weather Window

Clue
clue: write one window mark, cloud shape, or teacup signal the helper notices first: _____.

Why
why: write why the clue could help the helper make that inference: _____.

Inference sentence
inference sentence: write one sentence that links the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue: _____.

Might suggest
might suggest: write what that clue might suggest about the pretend weather-window problem: _____.

Second clue
second clue: write one different weather-window detail that supports the same inference: _____.

Paper tab check
paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference sentence is fictional and easy to follow: _____.

Quiet option: fill the clue and second clue blanks before writing the full sentence: _____.

Take-home line: keep this paper card and add one new weather-window clue later with an adult: _____.

Mitten Market Lost Ticket Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a blank page, pencil, and paper tabs near the mitten market card before writing begins: _____.

Writer: make up a soft mitten booth, a folded ticket, and a helper who notices what two clues might suggest: _____.

Mitten Market Lost Ticket

Clue clue: write one mitten stitch, booth mark, or folded ticket detail the helper spots: _____.	Might suggest might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about where the pretend ticket belongs: _____.
Why why: write why that clue points toward the helper's made-up inference: _____.	Second clue second clue: write one different mitten market clue that supports the same idea: _____.
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that uses the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue: _____.	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference stays on the invented story page: _____.

Quiet option: ask the adult to read the prompts while you fill one short blank: _____.

Take-home line: keep this paper card and invent one more mitten market clue later with an adult: _____.

Buttton Bakery Map Mix-Up Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set out one blank page, pencil, and paper tabs beside the button map prompt: _____.

Writer: invent button trays, a pretend map, and a helper who uses clues to understand a mix-up: _____.

Buttton Bakery Map Mix-Up

Clue clue: write one button shape, tray mark, or map line the helper notices first: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: write what that clue might suggest about the mixed-up pretend map: _____ _____
Why why: write why the clue could lead the helper toward that inference: _____ _____	Second clue second clue: write one different button map detail that supports the same inference: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that explains the inference with both clues and why: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the sentence connects the clues without using real place details: _____ _____

Quiet option: fill only the clue, second clue, and paper tab check blanks first: _____ . Take-home line: keep this paper card and add one new button map clue later with an adult: _____ .

Penny Path Compass Shop Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a blank page, pencil, and paper tabs beside the compass shop card: _____.

Writer: make up a penny path counter, a tiny compass, and a helper who thinks about what clues might suggest: _____.

Penny Path Compass Shop

Clue
clue: write one penny mark, pointer turn, or counter sign the helper notices first: _____.

Might suggest
might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about the helper's pretend compass choice: _____.

Why
why: write why that clue helps the helper make the inference: _____.

Second clue
second clue: write one different compass shop clue that supports the same idea: _____.

Inference sentence
inference sentence: write one sentence that combines the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue: _____.

Paper tab check
paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference sentence stays fictional and paper-only: _____.

Quiet option: fill the might suggest blank as a sentence starter, then add one clue: _____. Take-home line: keep this paper card and add one new compass shop clue later with an adult: _____.

Spoon Ferry Lunchbox Harbor Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a blank page, pencil, and small paper tabs beside the invented spoon ferry harbor card: _____.

Writer: invent a lunchbox harbor, a spoon ferry, and a careful dock helper who notices calm paper clues: _____.

Spoon Ferry Lunchbox Harbor

Clue clue: write one pretend spoon ferry detail, lid mark, or dock signal the helper notices first: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: write what the first clue might suggest about what the dock helper should do next: _____ _____
Why why: explain why that clue points to your idea inside the invented harbor story: _____ _____ _____	Second clue second clue: add one different harbor detail that supports the same inference: _____ _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that uses the clue, what it might suggest, why, and the second clue: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference sentence stays pretend, calm, and paper-only: _____ _____

Quiet option: fill the clue and second clue blanks first, then adult-scribe the inference sentence: _____ . Take-home line: keep this spoon ferry card for one later adult-led paper tab check: _____ .

Buttonwood Library Train Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set out a blank card page, pencil, and paper tabs near the invented buttonwood train prompt: _____.

Writer: make up a buttonwood train, a rolling shelf cart, and a conductor who reads only invented paper clues: _____.

Buttonwood Library Train

Clue
clue: write one pretend wheel squeak, shelf ribbon, or window leaf mark the conductor notices:

Might suggest
might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about where the conductor should pause in the story:

Why
why: explain why that clue helps the conductor make a careful story inference: _____

Second clue
second clue: add one different train or buttonwood detail that points to the same inference:

Inference sentence
inference sentence: write one sentence that connects the clue, might suggest idea, why line, and second clue:

Paper tab check
paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference uses invented details only:

Quiet option: adult reads the prompts, and the writer fills only clue, might suggest, and second clue blanks: _____.

Take-home line: save this buttonwood train card for another paper-only inference pass with an adult: _____.

Rain Boot Route Rangers Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: provide a blank page, pencil, and paper tabs beside the invented rain boot rangers card: _____.

Writer: invent two rain boot rangers, a puddle map on paper, and a gentle choice based on story clues: _____.

Rain Boot Route Rangers

Clue clue: write one pretend boot print, puddle shape, or paper map mark the rangers notice first: _____.	Might suggest might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about which made-up path the rangers choose: _____.
Why why: explain why that clue supports the rangers' paper-only inference: _____.	Second clue second clue: add one different rain boot or puddle-map detail that supports the same inference: _____.
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that uses the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue: _____.	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the sentence avoids real places and stays fictional: _____.

Quiet option: point to two invented map marks, then write only the might suggest line: _____.

Take-home line: keep this rain boot rangers card for one later paper tab check with an adult: _____.

Cloudberry Clocktower Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place a blank card page, pencil, and paper tabs beside the invented clocktower sketch: _____.

Writer: invent a clocktower keeper, cloudberry-colored bells, and a small story choice built from clues: _____.

Cloudberry Clocktower

Clue clue: write one pretend bell pause, stair scuff, or clock hand detail the keeper notices first: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about the clocktower keeper's next careful step: _____ _____
Why why: explain why that clocktower clue supports the inference inside the made-up story: _____ _____	Second clue second clue: add one different cloudberry clocktower detail that supports the same inference: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that joins the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when every detail is invented and the inference is clear: _____ _____

Quiet option: fill the clue blank with one phrase, then adult-scribe the why line: _____ . Take-home line: save this clocktower card for one calm adult-led paper inference revisit: _____.

Rain Gauge Railway Paper Tab Story Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set a blank page, pencil, and paper tabs beside the invented rain gauge railway card: _____.

Writer: invent a railway helper, a rain gauge beside the tracks, and paper clues that point to one idea: _____.

Rain Gauge Railway

Clue clue: write one pretend rain line, gauge tick, or track-side flag the railway helper notices first: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: write what the clue might suggest about the helper's next story choice: _____ _____
Why why: explain why that clue helps the helper make a fair fictional inference: _____ _____ _____	Second clue second clue: add one different railway or rain gauge detail that supports the same inference: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: write one sentence that includes the clue, might suggest idea, why, and second clue: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: mark the paper tab when the inference sentence stays made-up, kind, and paper-only: _____ _____

Quiet option: adult points to the clue and second clue blanks, and the writer fills one word in each: _____. Take-home line: keep this rain gauge railway card for one later offline paper inference pass with an adult: _____.

Pantry Measurement Mystery Paper Tab Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place this card, a pencil, and two blank paper tabs beside a pretend pantry counter sketch: _____.

Writer: invent a careful pantry helper who notices measurement clues and writes only made-up story details: _____.

Pantry Measurement Mystery

Clue clue: Write one pretend measurement clue, such as a shifted scoop, uneven cup mark, or folded label edge: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: What might this clue suggest about the helper's next story move: _____ _____
Why why: Explain why the clue might suggest that idea inside the pretend pantry mystery: _____ _____	Second clue second clue: Add a different pantry clue that points toward the same inference without repeating the first clue: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: Write one sentence that uses both clues to tell what the helper can infer: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: Mark the paper tab when the inference sentence uses clue, might suggest, why, and second clue language: _____ _____

Quiet option: Fill only the clue and might suggest blanks first, then add why later: _____ . Take-home line: Save this paper card and add one new pretend pantry clue with an adult later: _____ .

Solar Oven Picnic Station Paper Tab Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set this card, a pencil, and two blank paper tabs beside a pretend station map: _____.

Writer: make up a sunny station helper, a paper dial, and clues that stay inside the fictional story: _____.

Solar Oven Picnic Station

Clue clue: Write one pretend station clue, such as a tilted paper dial, warm-color mark, or moved shade strip: _____ _____	Might suggest might suggest: What might this clue suggest about what the station helper should notice next: _____ _____
Why why: Explain why the clue might suggest that idea in the invented solar station scene: _____ _____	Second clue second clue: Add another station clue that supports the same inference from a different spot on the paper map: _____ _____
Inference sentence inference sentence: Write one sentence that connects the clue, second clue, and what they might suggest: _____ _____	Paper tab check paper tab check: Mark the paper tab when the sentence stays calm, fictional, and paper-only: _____ _____

Quiet option: Choose the clue and second clue first, then ask an adult to scribe the why line: _____. Take-home line: Save this card and invent one more solar station clue with an adult later: _____.

Appendix Archive Lab Paper Tab Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place this card, a pencil, and three blank paper tabs beside a pretend archive lab diagram: _____.

Writer: invent an archive lab helper who studies two paper clues and infers a story idea without naming actual items: _____.

Appendix Archive Lab

Clue
clue: Write one pretend archive lab clue, such as a misfiled slip, ink dot, or folded specimen tag:

Might suggest
might suggest: What might this clue suggest about the hidden order in the invented archive lab:

Why
why: Explain why the clue might suggest that order using only made-up lab details:

Second clue
second clue: Add one different archive lab clue that strengthens or changes the inference:

Inference sentence
inference sentence: Write one sentence that names the inference and links it to the clue and second clue:

Paper tab check
paper tab check: Mark the paper tab when the inference sentence is based on two invented clues, not outside facts: _____.

Quiet option: Fill the clue, second clue, and might suggest blanks before writing the full sentence: _____. Take-home line: Keep this paper card and add one new appendix archive lab clue with an adult later: _____.

Chapter Gate Greenhouse Paper Tab Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: set this card, a pencil, and blank paper tabs beside a pretend greenhouse gate sketch: _____.

Writer: make up a greenhouse gate helper who notices two calm clues and writes a story inference on paper: _____.

Chapter Gate Greenhouse

Clue clue: Write one pretend greenhouse clue, such as a turned paper gate, leaning tag, or changed watering mark: _____.	Might suggest might suggest: What might this clue suggest about which greenhouse path the helper should choose: _____.
Why why: Explain why the clue might suggest that path inside the invented story: _____.	Second clue second clue: Add another greenhouse clue that points toward the same inference or makes it more exact: _____.
Inference sentence inference sentence: Write one sentence that connects both greenhouse clues to what the helper infers: _____.	Paper tab check paper tab check: Mark the paper tab when the inference sentence includes a clue, might suggest, why, and second clue: _____.

Quiet option: Circle the clue blanks and write only short phrases today: _____.

Take-home line: Save this paper card and add one new chapter gate greenhouse clue with an adult later: _____.

Binding Day Boardwalk Paper Tab Inference Card

Adult setup: Adult: place this card, a pencil, and two blank paper tabs beside a pretend boardwalk strip: _____.

Writer: invent a boardwalk helper who reads two gentle clues and writes one clear inference sentence: _____.

Binding Day Boardwalk

Clue
clue: Write one pretend boardwalk clue, such as a loose ribbon, shifted cart card, or marked rail plank:

Might suggest
might suggest: What might this clue suggest about what changed before the helper arrived:

Why
why: Explain why the clue might suggest that change in the invented binding day boardwalk story:

Second clue
second clue: Add a different boardwalk clue that supports the inference without copying the first clue:

Inference sentence
inference sentence: Write one sentence that states what the helper infers from both clues:

Paper tab check
paper tab check: Mark the paper tab when the sentence is fictional, paper-only, and supported by a second clue:

Quiet option: Fill the clue and second clue blanks, then stop before the full sentence if needed: _____. Take-home line: Keep this paper card and add one new boardwalk clue with an adult later: _____.