

Library Story Club Kit

A $23 printable toolkit for librarians, co-op leaders, classroom teachers, and tutors running calm short-story sessions with no devices or private data collection.

$23

Best for: Children's librarians, homeschool co-op leaders, tutors, and elementary teachers running adult-led writing clubs for ages 7-11.

Format: 10 printable club sessions plus adult facilitation tools

No scary harm, no bullying, no romance, no weapons, no branded characters, no real child profiles.

Inside

Adult setup checklist

Five group norms for calm story work

Printable materials list

Five timing plans for short club blocks

Take-home folder guidance

Five repeatable club routines

Eight extension activities

Six optional share prompts

Support moves for hesitant writers

Quiet cleanup and reset notes

ADULT SETUP

Run the story club

Setup

- Print one session packet per participant plus a few spare draft pages, then stack each packet in use order before the group arrives.
- Choose one club routine and one extension activity in advance so the session does not depend on last-minute sorting.
- Place pencils, plain paper, and choice slips in the center of each table before writers sit down.
- Use table numbers or simple symbols only if labels are needed for folders.
- Open with a brief adult model that shows one setting detail, one helpful choice, and one clear ending.

Group norms

- Everyone may write, draw, point to a choice, or dictate one sentence to the adult leader.
- Listen quietly when someone shares and respond to the writing, not to personal details.
- Keep stories fictional and use invented places, invented characters, and ordinary objects.
- Pass is always allowed during sharing; a listener role still counts as participation.
- Ask for help by pointing to a prompt, underlining a stuck spot, or choosing between two adult-offered options.

Materials

- Printed club packets with session pages, draft pages, extension pages, and optional share prompts.
- Sharpened pencils, erasers, colored pencils, sticky notes, plain folders, and one timer visible to the adult leader.
- A small table supply bin for each group with only quiet materials that can be cleaned up quickly.
- Blank index-size slips for title tests, detail banks, and next-step notes.
- A leader copy with the timing plan, group norms, and backup extension activities clipped together.

Timing

- 30-minute club: 5 minutes for welcome and norms, 7 minutes for story choices, 12 minutes for drafting, 4 minutes for quiet revision, and 2 minutes for cleanup.
- 45-minute club: 5 minutes for setup, 10 minutes for adult-led prompt launch, 15 minutes for drafting, 8 minutes for extension work, and 7 minutes for optional sharing.
- 60-minute club: 8 minutes for warm-up, 12 minutes for routine steps, 20 minutes for writing, 10 minutes for extension, 5 minutes for share prompts, and 5 minutes for take-home reset.
- Drop-in version: run a 10-minute detail bank, a 10-minute mini draft, and a 5-minute folder finish so participants can leave at natural breaks.
- Tutoring version: use 5 minutes for choice talk, 15 minutes for guided writing, 10 minutes for revision, and 5 minutes for reading one sentence back.

Take-home

- Send pages home in a plain folder with one clear finish job marked by the adult leader.
- Keep unfinished work private unless the participant chooses to share during the session.
- Include one optional family prompt that asks for an invented setting, object, or ending rather than personal information.
- Store leftover blank pages with the club supplies so the next session can begin without reprinting the whole kit.

World menu

AGES 7-9 Buttonwood Library Train	AGES 7-9 Pocket Park Notice Board	AGES 7-9 Penny Path Compass Shop	AGES 7-9 Acorn Avenue Errand Office	AGES 8-10 Seed Library Map Room
AGES 10-11 Index Card Theater Club	AGES 10-11 Margin Note Market	AGES 10-11 Clue Label Tower Museum	AGES 10-11 Revision River Ferry	AGES 10-11 Compass Craft Academy

Use these pages offline for adult-guided writing clubs. Keep finished work in family folders.

Routines and optional share prompts

Welcome Table Detail Bank

Best for: The first 10 minutes of a library, co-op, classroom, or tutoring club when arrivals are uneven.

1. Adult places one draft page and one detail-bank slip at each seat before the session begins.
2. Writers list or sketch one color, one object, one sound, and one quiet action from an invented setting.
3. Adult circulates and offers two simple choices to anyone who is stuck.
4. Each writer circles one detail to carry into the main story prompt.

Whole-Group Story Launch

Best for: Mixed-age groups that need a shared start before independent writing.

1. Adult reads the session prompt aloud and shows two printed choice slips for the setting.
2. The group chooses by pointing, raising a hand, or quietly naming one option.
3. Adult writes the shared choice on a visible page and models one short opening sentence.
4. Writers adapt the shared choice on their own pages with one different detail.

Quiet Partner Polish

Best for: Small groups with writers who can read one line to a partner or adult helper.

1. Each writer chooses one sentence, sketch label, or dictated line to show a partner.
2. The listener names one clear detail and asks one neutral question about the next action.
3. The writer adds one noun, verb, or setting word based on the question.
4. Adult closes the routine by asking everyone to mark one sentence they want to keep.

Station-to-Story Rotation

Best for: Longer club sessions with two or more tables and one adult leader plus helpers.

1. Adult sets four stations: setting, helper, small mix-up, and ending choice.
2. Groups spend four minutes at each station adding one note to their own page.
3. After the final station, writers return to seats and order the four notes first, next, then, and last.
4. Writers draft a short story using the ordered notes while adults help with spelling only when asked.

Folder Finish Reset

Best for: The last 8 minutes when a club needs a calm ending and clean handoff.

1. Adult asks writers to stop at the end of the sentence they are working on.
2. Writers mark one finished part with a star or underline and one unfinished part with a sticky note.
3. Adult gives one next-step choice: add a title, add an ending, or add one clearer detail.
4. Pages go into folders before supplies are collected and tables are reset.

Optional share prompts

Read one sentence that shows a clear setting detail.

Point to one sketch, title, or word bank item and tell how it helps the story.

Ask an adult to read one line while you name the word you chose carefully.

Share one revision move you made: add, move, replace, or explain.

Tell the group one next action your invented character could take.

Pass today and listen for one clear detail in another writer's story.

Extension activity menu

12 MINUTES | SETTING SEQUENCE

Shelf-Shape Setting Map

Writers draw a simple shelf, table, cart, or room shape and label three invented story stops with one calm detail at each stop.

8 MINUTES | MAIN IDEA

Title Three Ways

Writers create three possible titles: one with a place, one with an object, and one with an action, then choose the clearest title.

10 MINUTES | STORY STRUCTURE

Object-to-Helper Sort

Writers choose three ordinary objects from a printed list and sort them into setting detail, helpful item, and ending clue.

12 MINUTES | SEQUENCE

Quiet Action Ladder

Writers list three small actions a character could take, then number them in an order that makes the story easier to follow.

15 MINUTES | DIALOGUE

Dialogue Without Names

Writers draft four short lines between two invented characters using role labels such as guide and maker instead of personal labels.

10 MINUTES | REVISION

Revision Sticky Move

Writers place a sticky note beside one sentence and choose one revision move: add, move, replace, or explain.

8 MINUTES | WORD CHOICE

Read-Aloud Line Test

Adult reads one volunteer sentence aloud while the writer listens for a word to keep and a word to make clearer.

12 MINUTES | ENDING CHOICE

Ending Choice Pair

Writers draft two possible endings for the same story: one that solves the mix-up and one that invites another small adventure.

Buttonwood Library Train Route

Choose one train stop, add three quiet library details, and write a short route note for the next reader.

Keep the session fictional and materials on the table; use table symbols if writers choose to share aloud.

Buttonwood Library Train

Ages 7-9 8 minutes setup Adult-led 40-minute story club session for a library program, co-op table, classroom center, or tutoring group using printed pages only.

Train Stop

The Buttonwood train stops beside _____.

The quiet platform detail is _____.

The route marker points toward _____.

Reading Car

Inside the reading car, the seat looks like _____.

The page basket holds _____.

The soft announcement says _____.

Route Note

First, the helper checks _____.

Next, the helper carries _____.

The note for the next reader says _____.

Take this page home and add one more Buttonwood Library train stop with an adult.

Pocket Park Notice Circle

Invent three park notices, choose the clearest one, and write what the pocket park helper does next.

Invite children to suggest ordinary objects or colors; skip any personal details from real families or real places.

Pocket Park Notice Board

Ages 7-9

7 minutes setup

Printable circle-time writing page for an adult-led library club, classroom station, co-op meetup, or tutoring warmup.

Notice Ideas

The first tiny notice asks for _____.

The second tiny notice points to _____.

The third tiny notice reminds everyone about _____.

Park Clues

The bottle-cap bench is near _____.

The pebble path curves around _____.

The mint-leaf shade covers _____.

Helper Message

First, the helper reads _____.

Next, the helper adds _____.

The clearest park message says _____.

Take this notice page home and finish the Pocket Park message board later.

Penny Path Compass Table

Pick a compass clue, draw a penny path, and write three clear directions for a careful shop helper.

Penny Path Compass Shop

Pair children for one quiet idea share, then return pages to individual writing so every child keeps their own work.

Ages 7-9 9 minutes setup Adult-led printable direction-writing session for a library story club, co-op writing table, classroom group, or tutoring lesson.

Compass Clue

The compass needle points toward _____.

The penny path begins beside _____.

The shop window shows _____.

Path Map

The first turn goes around _____.

The second turn stops near _____.

The final path mark looks like _____.

Direction Card

First, walk past _____.

Next, check the compass for _____.

The direction card ends with _____.

Take this compass page home and add a new Penny Path shop direction.

Acorn Avenue Errand Desk

Sort three friendly errand slips, choose a helpful order, and write the desk note that explains the route.

Model one invented errand on a shared scrap, then steer every label toward invented places and fictional details.

Acorn Avenue Errand Office

Ages 7-9 8 minutes setup Printable adult-led story club session for a library program, tutoring table, co-op meeting, or classroom writing block.

Errand Slips

The first leaf slip needs _____.

The second leaf slip belongs at _____.

The third leaf slip is marked with _____.

Desk Sort

The acorn drawer holds _____.

The route list starts with _____.

The helper chooses the order because _____.

Desk Note

First, the helper carries _____.

Next, the helper checks _____.

The finished desk note says _____.

Take this errand page home and finish one more Acorn Avenue desk note.

Seed Library Map Room

Choose a seed drawer, add observation clues to a garden map, and write a return note for the next gardener.

Keep the seed library fictional and observation-based; use invented gardens and fictional notes only.

Seed Library Map Room

Ages 8-10 10 minutes setup Adult-led 45-minute printable story club session for older elementary library groups, co-ops, classrooms, or tutoring groups.

Seed Drawer

The seed drawer label says _____.

The packet map unfolds toward _____.

The first garden clue shows _____.

Map Observations

The bean row curves near _____.

The sunflower route points past _____.

The spacing note explains _____.

Return Note

First, the mapper records _____.

Next, the mapper compares _____.

The return note for the next gardener says _____.

Take this map page home and add one more Seed Library observation note.

Index Card Theater Scene Cues

Arrange three scene cue choices, then write the line that helps the next scene make sense.

Keep the cards face up, invite quiet pointing before writing, and make the read-back optional.

Ages 10-11

7 minutes setup

Adult-led printable story club session for a library table, homeschool co-op, tutoring group, or classroom writing club.

Index Card Theater Club

Scene Card Order

The first scene card shows _____.

The turning scene changes when _____.

The final scene should help readers notice _____.

Cue Line Choices

An action cue I can add is _____.

A dialogue cue that fits the scene is _____.

A setting cue that makes the stage clearer is _____.

Club Page Finish

The cue that connects my scenes best is _____.

One word I can revise for clarity is _____.

My final theater-club sentence is _____.

Save this scene-cue page in a folder so one cue can become a longer theater story later.

Margin Note Market Feedback Menu

Turn a vague market note into a kind, specific revision task for a made-up writer.

Use sample notes only, keep all feedback about invented pages, and let each child choose one task to finish.

Margin Note Market

Ages 10-11

6 minutes setup

Adult-led printable story club session for a library table, homeschool co-op, tutoring group, or classroom writing club.

Market Note Sort

The vague note on the stall says _____.

The writing skill this note should help is _____.

A kinder, clearer note could begin with _____.

Specific Revision Task

The writer should add one exact detail about _____.

The sentence that needs a clearer order is _____.

The next revision step should be _____.

Club Reflection

The most useful feedback word on my page is _____.

One note I would choose for my own draft is _____.

My final market feedback line is _____.

Save this feedback-menu page to use as a calm revision checklist for a future draft.

Clue Label Tower Curator Cards

Choose everyday-object clues and write short labels that tell readers what to notice first.

Offer harmless classroom or table objects as inspiration, then keep the final labels invented and brief.

Ages 10-11

8 minutes setup

Adult-led printable story club session for a library table, homeschool co-op, tutoring group, or classroom writing club.

Clue Label Tower Museum

Object Clue Picks

The object I choose for the first exhibit is _____.

The clue visitors should notice first is _____.

A detail that does not belong on the label is _____.

Label Drafting

My label should explain why _____.

The clearest museum word I can use is _____.

One sentence label for this exhibit is _____.

Curator Finish

The next exhibit card should connect to _____.

One confusing label word I can replace is _____.

My final tower museum line is _____.

Save this curator-card page so one label can become a short museum scene at home.

Revision River Draft Ferry

Move one scene stop, add one useful detail, and write a clearer ferry route sentence.

Frame revision as rearranging choices on a made-up ferry map, not judging a child's personal draft.

Ages 10-11

7 minutes setup

Adult-led printable story club session for a library table, homeschool co-op, tutoring group, or classroom writing club.

Revision River Ferry

Draft Island Stops

The opening island shows _____.

The middle island feels clearer after _____.

The finish island should remind readers about _____.

Ferry Revision Move

One scene stop I might move is _____.

The reason this move helps the reader is _____.

A detail I can add to connect the route is _____.

Clear Route Line

The ferry crosses the draft river when _____.

One sentence I can make more exact is _____.

My final revision river line is _____.

Save this ferry page as a take-home revision map for a future story scene.

Compass Craft Story Route

Plan a beginning, middle, and finish route, then revise the turning point so the story path is easy to follow.

Keep route choices limited to three cards, ask one guiding question at a time, and let saving the page count as completion.

Compass Craft Academy

Ages 10-11 8 minutes setup Adult-led printable story club session for a library table, homeschool co-op, tutoring group, or classroom writing club.

Story Route Map

The beginning route stop is _____.

The middle route stop changes the plan because _____.

The finish route stop should show _____.

Turning Point Check

The most important choice on the route is _____.

The choice matters because _____.

A detail that can guide readers through the turn is _____.

Academy Finish

One route label I can make clearer is _____.

The sentence I want to draft first is _____.

My final compass craft line is _____.

Save this route page to finish the first paragraph of a Compass Craft Academy story later.